

Facilities and Infrastructure Support Services (FISS)

TOOLS AND INFRASTRUCTURE TO KEEP NIH EMPLOYEES CONNECTED

We provide internet and phone access, local area network, and audio-visual connectivity services and the physical and network infrastructure to support these services so that the NIH community can connect to each other and external partners.

WHAT WE PROVIDE

Emergency Response Systems & In-Building Cellular Systems

The Emergency Response System (ERS), In-Building Cellular Distributed Antenna System, and Signal Service for assigned personal pagers (102 paging) support the NIH community and critical services including first-responder organizations, the NIH Clinical Center, and NIH's Office of Research Facilities (ORF).
